the AV company

providing audio-visual & technical solutions

THE AV COMPANY is your complete audiovisual equipment and technology support provider.

Producers, meeting planners, exhibitors and speakers who need to create themed environments, establish computer networks, project and/or broadcast presentations, or coordinate events rely on THE AV COMPANY to effectively deliver their messages.

With onsite lighting, sound, projection, video, recording, broadcast, computers, staging, and exhibit displays, there is no event THE AV COMPANY can't manage.

Understanding you only have one chance to make a presentation great, we offer reliable and creative solutions with outstanding customer service and the best available technology.

You may want to host a meeting or an event with a single projector or an array of modern staging equipment. Our staff can meet with you in advance of your event to assure that every technical detail is met to your specifications.

Our project manager will work with you to design your event and assure a successful outcome. And a trained technician will be on hand when you arrive to handle your event; making sure the equipment is delivered on time and working properly.

With specialized operations in staging, conference support and rentals, THE AV COMPANY provides a unique combination of equipment and services.
